Andrea Bronson is a partner at Davis Graham & Stubbs LLP, where her practice has an emphasis on water, natural resources, and environmental law and litigation.

Andrea's practice focuses on permitting and regulatory compliance, enforcement, water quality, site remediation, and environmental litigation for clients in numerous industries, including mining, oil and gas, manufacturing, and development. Andrea counsels clients in matters involving the Clean Water Act, the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act (CERCLA), and other federal and state environmental laws, and she has litigated cases in state and federal courts relating to these matters. She has also represented clients in administrative proceedings before the Colorado Water Quality Control Commission and the Colorado Energy & Carbon Management Commission.

She has also represented government entities, corporations, individuals, and other water users in water court and transactions, including water rights due diligence in property acquisitions. Her practice also involves advising clients and litigating eminent domain matters involving the taking of easements and other interests in land needed for water projects.

Andrea is the co-chair of the Davis Graham Diversity, Equity & Inclusion Committee. She has served on the Board of Directors for the Colorado Women's Bar Association since 2020. She is also a member of the ABA Section of Environment, Energy & Resources (SEER) and the Foundation for Natural Resources and Energy Law. Andrea is a member of the Colorado Bar Association, where she served as a member of the executive council for the Construction Law Section from 2013-2019. Additionally, she currently serves on the advisory board of the University of Denver College of Law Professional Mentoring Program. She is a participant in the 2023 Colorado General Counsel Mentorship Program. Andrea was named among the "Ones to Watch" in the area of Natural Resources Law (2021-2024) and Eminent Domain and Condemnation Law (2022-2023) by Best Lawyers®, an annual guide by publisher Woodward/White Inc.

REPRESENTATIVE EXPERIENCE

- Represents defendants in Clean Water Act citizen suits in federal court in Montana, including successfully defending a public utility in a Clean Water Act citizen suit in one of the first cases to apply the Supreme Court's "functional equivalence" test. The jury returned a complete defense verdict, which was affirmed by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals.
- Represents mining companies responsible for implementing CERCLA cleanups and negotiating administrative settlements and consent decrees.
- Represents clients in transactions involving water rights, including performing pre-acquisition due diligence and drafting all necessary transaction documents to transfer such water rights.
- Successfully condemned rights of way needed for water pipeline uses in eminent domain actions, including representing clients at valuation trials.
