Zach Miller has been a practicing environmental, water, and natural resources lawyer since 1980. He has litigated complex cases in state and federal courts and handled resource-related matters on Indian lands. Zach has expertise in title review and complex transactional work for water rights, mineral interests, and other real property. He has represented clients in several of the largest water rights acquisitions and change cases in Colorado history. He is a former member and chair of the Environmental Advisory Board for the City of Boulder and is a member and outgoing Chair of the Advisory Council for the Getches-Wilkinson Center at CU Law School.

Prior to joining Davis Graham & Stubbs LLP in 1981, Zach served as special counsel to the Assistant Secretary for Indian Affairs and as an attorney in the Honors Program of the Solicitor, US Department of the Interior, in Washington, DC.

Zach has received several accolades, including being listed in the Guide to the World's Leading Environmental Lawyers, Who's Who Legal: Environment, Tier 1 and named a "Leader in Their Field" in Chambers USA for Natural Resources and Environment, and The Best Lawyers in America® for Water Law, Environmental Law, and Environmental Litigation. Zach has also been named Lawyer of the Year by The Best Lawyers in America® several times and inducted as a fellow of the American College of Environmental Lawyers.
