Edward Shaoul is a partner of Davis Graham & Stubbs LLP, where his practice focuses on securities law disclosure and compliance, equity and debt financing transactions, corporate governance, mergers and acquisitions, and the pre-acquisition reporting requirements of the Hart-Scott-Rodino (HSR) Antitrust Improvements Act. He works with clients across a broad range of industries, including oil and gas, mining, financial services, real estate development, and technology.

With more than 10 years of investment banking and finance experience, including at Allen & Company and Goldman Sachs in New York, Edward is uniquely able to provide practical solutions for his clients from both legal and capital markets perspectives. As an investment banker, he advised clients in mergers and acquisitions and capital raising and principal investment transactions representing more than $20 billion in total transaction value.

Currently, Edward serves as a member of the Davis Graham Diversity, Equity & Inclusion Committee and on the advisory board of the Denver Law Review. He also serves on the Executive Committee of the Metro Denver Economic Development Corporation.

In addition, he has served on the alumni council of the University of Denver Sturm College of Law. In law school, Edward was editor in chief of the Denver University Law Review.

The following are selected transactions in which Edward has assisted clients in his capacity as a legal adviser and investment banking adviser, respectively.
