Rob McCary is a senior associate at Davis Graham & Stubbs LLP. His practice focuses on corporate and transactional law, including mergers and acquisitions, equity and debt financings, securities law disclosure and compliance, capital markets transactions, corporate governance, emerging companies, and other general corporate matters.

Rob represents U.S. and international clients from a wide variety of industries, including private equity, building materials, oil and gas, mining, manufacturing and distribution, outdoor recreation and equipment, waste management, and professional services. His transactional experience includes deals ranging in size from ~$1 million to multiple billions of dollars.

Rob received his J.D. from the University of Colorado Law School, where he served as managing editor of the Colorado Law Review. Prior to joining Davis Graham, Rob interned with Judge John L. Kane at the U.S. District Court of Colorado and with the in-house legal team at Level 3 Communications.

In 2025-2026, he was named a Colorado Rising Star by Thomson Reuters. In 2026, Rob was selected for inclusion in Best Lawyers: Ones to Watch® in America, in Leveraged Buyouts and Private Equity Law.

Before pursuing a career as an attorney, Rob served as Backcountry Program Director at Teton Valley Ranch Camp, a nonprofit summer camp in Jackson, Wyoming. He graduated from Colgate University with honors in philosophy and a minor in economics.

Rob serves on the board of directors of the Colorado Outward Bound School, a premier provider of experience-based outdoor learning and leadership programs for youth and adults from all walks of life. Rob is also a member of the Fall 2022 class of Impact Denver, a foundation leadership program that strives to educate and inspire people who want to make a difference as community leaders.
