Julie Shursky is an associate at Davis Graham & Stubbs LLP in the Intellectual Property & Technology Transactions Group. Julie partners with businesses across a range of industries to help them select, secure, and protect their brands. Her practice includes assisting clients throughout the entire life cycle of trademark protection, including clearance searching, trademark prosecution, and trademark counseling, such as developing international protection strategies and implementing trademark watch programs to monitor potential infringements and unauthorized enforcement and trademark litigation. Julie has experience with takedowns among many different platforms with respect to counterfeiting and trademark infringement, including being a member of the IACC.

Julie is well-versed in assisting clients through adversarial proceedings, including ex parte and inter partes proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (“TTAB”) and appeals with the Federal Circuit.

Prior to joining Davis Graham, Julie was an associate in the Denver Office of a boutique intellectual property rights firm. Earlier in her career, she was a trademark attorney in a private practice law firm in Virginia. Julie received her J.D. from American University, Washington College of Law, and earned her BBA in international business from The George Washington University.

Julie is admitted to practice before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.
