Griffin Mansi is an associate in the Environmental & Public Lands Group at Davis Graham & Stubbs LLP, where he focuses his practice on permitting and uses of federal public lands.

Prior to joining Davis Graham, Griffin earned his B.A. from Colorado College and his J.D. from the University of Denver Sturm College of Law, where he completed a certificate in Environment and Natural Resources Law and Policy. During law school, he participated in the Jeffrey G. Miller National Environmental Law Moot Court Competition (NELMCC), where he briefed and argued novel environmental litigation issues against teams across the country. In addition, Griffin gained practical experience through internships with the Honorable Kristen L. Mix of the U.S. District Court for the District of Colorado and the Natural Resources and Environment Division of the Colorado Attorney General's Office.

Before law school, Griffin worked in the editorial department of various network television shows based in Los Angeles. In his free time, he enjoys skiing, cycling, motorcycling, and photography.
