Not Yet Admitted in Colorado

Rhodes Evans is not yet admitted to practice in Colorado.

Rhodes is an associate in the Trial Group at Davis Graham. Her practice focuses on complex commercial litigation matters.

Rhodes built her trial foundation early. During undergrad, she gained courtroom exposure through internships with the Office of the Public Defender for Florida's Eighth Judicial Circuit and the Eighth Judicial Circuit Court in Gainesville. As a law student, she externed with the Colorado Supreme Court, drafting petitions for certiorari and briefing cases. She also clerked in the Consumer Protection Division of the Colorado Attorney General's Office, where she conducted legal research, supported trial teams, and worked on regulatory and consumer protection matters. Before joining Davis Graham, Rhodes was a summer associate at the firm.

Rhodes earned her J.D. from the University of Colorado Law School, where she served as managing editor of the University of Colorado Law Review (Vol. 97) and as a Rothgerber Teaching Fellow. She received a B.A. in Political Science and a B.S. in Psychology from the University of Florida.
