Zane is an associate in the Transactions Department at Davis Graham. His practice focuses on a broad range of corporate and transactional matters, including mergers and acquisitions, corporate governance, and other transactional matters.

Prior to joining Davis Graham, Zane was a summer associate at the firm, where he worked on a variety of transactional and corporate matters. During law school, he served as president of the Transaction and Negotiation Team and associate editor on the Colorado Law Review. Zane was a judicial intern to the Honorable Jaclyn Casey Brown of the Colorado Court of Appeals, gaining valuable insight into appellate practice and legal analysis. Additionally, he worked as a research fellow for the Getches-Wilkinson Center for Natural Resources, Energy, and the Environment, focusing primarily on public land use and disposition policy. Earlier, he worked as a research assistant on projects related to public land wildfire management strategy.

Zane earned his J.D. from the University of Colorado Law School. Before law school, Zane graduated with a B.A. in Political Science from the University of Colorado Boulder.
